

The background of the poster features three dancers in white against a black background. In the top left, a male dancer is shown from the chest up, with his arms raised. In the center, a female dancer is in a dynamic pose, with one leg extended forward and arms outstretched. In the bottom right, another male dancer is in a crouched, arched position. The text is overlaid on this background.

Arthur Avilés is a Gay New York-Rican. He received a B/A, an Arts and Letters award and an honorary doctorate from Bard College under Jean Churchill, Lenore Latimere, Susan Osberg, Aileen Passloff and Albert Reid. He was a member of Bill T. Jones/Arnie Zane Dance company from '87 to 95 from which he was honored with a New York Dance and performance (Bessie) award. In '98 he along with Charles Rice-Gonzalez founded the Bronx Academy of Arts and Dance (BAAD!) now 22 years strong. He has appeared in a number of dance films by Marta Renzi. Mr. Avilés is a NYFA Fellow, the recipient of the Mayor's award for Art and Culture and has received a Bronx recognizes it's own award. Also he has received a National Endowment for the Arts (NEA) Master's Grant from Pregones Theatre. Most recently he along with Mr. Rice-Gonzalez received a Bessie award for lifetime achievement.

Jean Churchill, Professor of Dance (1980 - 2021) Studied modern dance at Connecticut College Dance Festival. Member, Boston Ballet Company (1966-72); artistic director, New England Dinosaur (1976). Performed works by James Waring, Trisha Brown, Carolyn Brown, George Balanchine, Norman Walker, and in classical and modern ballets. Choreography in Choreographer's Showcase, Split Stream, Fresh Tracks, Men Dancing, Performance Mix, and To the Pointe festivals; venues in Scotland; and many venues in the United States. Choreography and direction for Cinderella's Bad Magic, opera composed by Kyle Gann, premiered in Moscow (2002).

Peggy Florin, Visiting Associate Professor of Dance (1998 - 2021) is a choreographer, performer and teacher. She studied in the BFA program at Juilliard, holds a BA from Empire State College and an MFA from Bennington College. She has taught at Oberlin College, Ohio University, Williams College, Bennington College and at summer residencies at the Bennington College July Program, Pro Danza Italia and the White Mountain Dance Festival. She has taught modern and ballet technique, dance composition, improvisation, repertory and experiential anatomy. Trained as a child in classical ballet at the Metropolitan Opera House by Anthony Tudor and Margaret Craske, she performed with the Atlanta Ballet and as a soloist with the Manhattan Festival Ballet. She has appeared in the work of many choreographers including Anna Wyman, Muna Tseng, Albert Reid, Phyllis Lamhut, Janet Panetta and Charles Moulton, touring nationally and in Europe. Her choreography has been presented at Dance Theater Workshop, the Cunningham Studio, DIA, Movement Research and the Marymount Manhattan Theater in New York City, and at Jacob's Pillow Inside/Out in Massachusetts, the Bennington College Martha Hill Performance Space, the Bard College Fisher Center for the Performing Arts, and the New England Artists Conference. Peggy's creative work and teaching is influenced by her on-going study of movement through the Alexander Technique and clowning. An AmSAT certified teacher of the Alexander Technique, she is on the faculty at the Riverside Initiative for the Alexander Technique in New York City.

Harriett Meyer (class of 2012, M.A.T. 2016) is a dancer, dancemaker, and educator living in the Hudson Valley. In addition to performing and showing work at various venues in the New York area, Harriett has taught ballet and modern dance at Barefoot Dance Center in West Park, NY, since 2015. She also teaches English Language Arts at a small public high school in Ulster County, and spends the balance of her time in the woods with her dogs. She is thrilled to be sharing this work in honor of Peggy Florin, with whom she has continued to work closely since graduating from Bard's dance program.
